

‘Your beliefs become your thoughts. Your thoughts become your words. Your words become your actions. Your actions become your habits. Your habits become your values. Your values become your destiny.’

~ Mahatma Gandhi

My sincere gratitude to everyone who helped to create and/or participated in this year’s fall series. To our education team, our small group hosts and facilitators, our music and Sunday worship teams, and every one of you who chose to explore and create a personal set of core values as a means to support you on your continuing journey into wholehearted living . . . I honor you, I thank you, and I celebrate you.
